Re: Docket #98N-1038

Food that is irradiated or exposed to radiation MUST be labeled with a "radura" symbol and the words "treated with radiation" or "treated by irradiation."

The American public has a right to know about the food they consume and the proposed rulemaking is a gross violation of consumer right-to-know and truth in labeling laws and principles. Health conscious consumers must have the ability to choose between consuming irradiated food and avoiding it.

Thank you for your attention to these comments.
